Travel and research grants at the Faculty of Science

Application
Instructions and link to the application form are available on Lund University’s scholarship pages:

http://www.staff.lu.se/research-and-education/research-support/travel-and-research-grants/faculty-travel-and-research-grants

The application is to be submitted on 20 September 2018 at the latest.

The application is to include a brief but precise account of the purpose of the trip (or, where applicable, of the project) and its significance for the applicant’s research. A CV is to be attached to the application and research students are also to attach a statement from their supervisor.

Please note that different foundations address different target groups. As an applicant, you should always apply to all the foundations for which you qualify.

Principle for allocation of travel grants
The following principles apply to the allocation of travel grants:

- Among the application for travel to conferences, priority will be given to applications from those who will be taking an active part in the conference with a presentation or poster.
- Among the applications for research and study trips, priority will be given to brief and well-documented applications and well-planned trips. Trips that concern the gathering of material, the use of special equipment and suchlike are given priority over trips that only concern discussions with other researchers.
- Applications that concern close travel destinations within Scandinavia are given low priority. Applications from young researchers and doctoral students are prioritised. In the review of applications from doctoral students, particular attention is paid to statements from supervisors. Applicants not granted money within the past two years are prioritised while those who have been grant recipients in the near future are given lower priority.

Decision
The decision on allocation of funds is taken by the board of the Faculty of Science unless otherwise indicated for the relevant foundation.
Payment
All grants should be ordered on the order form found in conjunction with the granted application.

Payments to employees of Lund University are made to the applicant’s department. Where applicable, the application should take account of the department’s additional overhead costs. It is appropriate to include these under the heading “other costs”. In such cases, the costs stated in the application are to exclude VAT.

In cases where, according to the statutes of the foundation, grants can also be awarded to activities outside Lund University or to students, and such applications are approved, payment is made to a private bank account or equivalent. In this case, the costs stated in the application are to include VAT.

If the funds have not been used for the purpose for which they were allocated within the timeframe decided, they are to be repaid.

The last day for using the grant is 30 June 2020.
